The Madison Democrat comes out in a new dress this morning, in the latest style which is in every way creditable to that enterprising and bright journal. The Democrat enjoys much prosperity, and it deserves all it enjoys.

Mr. George W. Peck tells us in his Denver letters that Mr. Tabor, who has been counted the wealthiest man in Colorado, has placed a mortgage of $200,000 upon his fine opera house, which is the handsomest in the United States west of New York. The money was borrowed from the Northwestern Mutual life, of Milwaukee.

The funeral of Mlle. Litta took place at Bloomington, Illinois, Monday afternoon. It was the largest funeral ever seen in that city. The services were held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which the famous singer was a member. The decorations in the church were exceedingly rich and elaborate and among the magnificent floral emblems was one contributed by Vice President David Davis. "The remains of the great singer reposed in a very handsome casket, the corpse being arrayed in a rich cream-colored satin with cream cape or dress which Litta wore at her last concert at Escanaba, previous to her fatal illness. Her beautiful blonde hair was frizzed over her broad forehead as she loved to wear it in life, the only ornaments being natural flowers, of which she was very fond."

Postmaster General Gresham has struck a death blow to lotteries, and even makes it impossible for the famous Louisiana lottery to do business. When General Key was postmaster general he issued an order—November 13, 1878—prohibiting the delivery of money orders and registered letters to the Louisiana lottery. The case was appealed to the supreme court of the United States, which resulted in a temporary suspension of the order. After some time the appeal was dismissed, and the supreme court never reached a determination in regard to it. Under these circumstances, Mr. Gresham considers that the original is in force, and so decides. This will greatly cripple the lotteries if not wholly prevent them from doing business. If the postmaster general shall succeed in striking a death blow to lotteries, he will have done the country a valuable service.

Mr. Ingersoll is becoming, we fear, a political dyspeptic. It is hard work to suit him now-a-days with anything that is fair. He says about President Arthur:

He will not be nominated. People do not like death to suggest to them their national tickets, or their national tickets to suggest death. He was vice president—a vice which a party never forgives in these days. A vice president is regarded as children regard a step-mother—a device to save an election—a something to stop a gap—a lighter—a political raft. He holds the horses until another rider is found.

Mr. Ingersoll shows a good deal of unfairness and prejudice in this statement. The manner in which Mr. Arthur came in possession of the presidency, is no dishonor to him, and does not preclude him from making a good president. He is doing splendidly, and is not only the first gentleman in the land by position and conduct, but he is discharging the duties of the great office with remarkable ability and wisdom.

General W. S. Rosecrans, of California is in this state, looking after the interest of the Chicago, St. Paul & Northern Pacific railway, whose articles of association have been filed with the secretary of state at Madison. The State Journal gives a description of the road as follows: "The contemplated line of the company, as has been stated heretofore, will run from Genoa, in the southeastern corner of Walworth county, in a northwesterly direction through the counties of Walworth, Jefferson, the northeastern corner of Dane, through Columbia, Adams, Juneau, Jackson, Clark, Chippewa, Barron, Burnett and Douglas, with a branch running through from Geneva to Milwaukee, through the counties of Kenosha, Racine, Waukesha to Milwaukee, and another from Necedah, in Juneau county, to a point on the St. Croix river near Clifton Mills. The main line from Geneva, on the state line to Superior City, will touch Geneva, Elkhorn, Whitewater, Jefferson, Lake Mills, Portage, Necedah, Neillsville and Flambeau. The company organizes with a capital stock of $11,000,000 and retains the option of increasing the amount at any time. The original line was projected in 1853 by the Wisconsin Central railway company and graded by this company from a point on the state line to Jefferson, a distance of 44½ miles, at an expense of $1,200,000 when the bondholders foreclosed, which occurred in 1863. These bondholders immediately organized as the Chicago & Lake Superior railway company and in 1867 received a charter from the state legislature, which was to hold for ten years but which was revoked eighteen months afterward. The Chicago & Northern Pacific air line was formed in 1872 from the old company. In 1873, the celebrated Air Line land grant was given to the company and the grant was renewed in 1876 to May, 1882. The new company's line will be 412 miles in length, and in the northwestern part of the state it will probably run nearly parallel with the Omaha road. The president, Gen. Rosecrans, and the directors are to meet in Chicago next Wednesday evening for the purpose of laying plans for future operations. The first work which will be accomplished will, it is understood, be to iron the old grade of 41½ miles between Jefferson and Genoa. The expectation is to have one-half of the line to Superior completed in less than three years."

KERR, THE DEFAULTER.

His Arrival at San Francisco Announced---Short Account of His Crime.

A Case of Horrible Depravity Reported from New York---Terrible Conclusion of a Debauch.

CHICAGO, July 10.—A special from San Francisco announces that "Frederick M. Kerr, assistant cashier of Preston, Kean & Co., has reached this city in the steamer City of Sydney, having been captured in Lima, Peru, by H. G. Julian, of Pinkerton's agency. The San Francisco authorities took kindly charge of him, and with the assistance of F. Warner, of Chicago, kept him safe from the habeas corpus fiends so numerous in this city. He was not taken to prison but to a private house, where he was securely watched over by Detective Julian. The particulars of his capture by a file of soldiers have already been published. He was taken from Lima owing to the disturbance in that country and placed on board the United States war vessel Essex, in which he was brought to Honolulu and transferred to the City of Sidney, which vessel conveyed him here. He was taken from the steamer in the bay before she touched the wharf and hurried to the shore to avoid a possible writ of habeas corpus. Detective Julian says he recovered a £2,000 draft upon which £20 had been advanced. A correspondent interviewed him in his secluded retreat. The remains of a repast were on the table, and Mr. Kerr was found complacently smoking a cigar. He refused to talk of his affairs, however. The desire that he would not talk appeared to be that of the detectives present. He will be taken to Chicago in a day or two."

It will be remembered that Kerr, who lived on West Washington street, and had always been considered a model of excellence and honor, suddenly decamped in January last with $50,000, the property of Preston, Kean & Co., the bankers on Washington street. He had been for several years assistant cashier of that bank. Early in January he asked for a two weeks' vacation, which was granted. Shortly before he should have returned Preston, Kean & Co. received a letter from him acknowledging his defalcations, and warning them that it would not be well for them to interfere with his possession of the ill-gotten wealth. The case was put into the hands of Pinkerton's agency, but before a man could reach New York the defaulter had sailed for Aspinwall. Detective H. G. Julian was sent after him, but at Aspinwall it was learned that Kerr had left for Callao under the name of "Warren Stuart." He was traced from there to Lima, where by very clever detective work Julian got into his good graces, and the two became boon companions. In the meantime the agency was investigating the treaty relations between Peru and the United States. The authorities at Washington denied the existence of an extradition treaty between the two countries, but from the Peruvian consul at New York it was learned that such a treaty did exist. Another search in the departments revealed the covetted documents among a lot of musty records, and the information being sent to Julian, Kerr was immediately arrested. Owing to the possession of Lima by the Chillian forces, some difficulty was experienced in serving the papers, but finally Gen. Lynch, who commanded, gave the necessary authority and the defaulting cashier is now on his homeward journey. Kerr's threat to damage his employers resulted in the submission of their books to a committee of the Clearing-House association, which showed that his peculations had not embarrassed them.

HORRIBLE DEPRAVITY.

NEW YORK, July 10.—A Herald special from Atlantic City, N. J., says: Clarissa Bounds, a beautiful girl of 19 years, confessed to Mayor Maxwell, of this city, shortly before her death, an awful story of crime and debauchery. She said that when a white man named John Thomas and Jos. Kolsy, a negro, left for Conleayton mills, situated west of Atlantic City, some time since, she was induced to follow them. She joined their camp in the pine woods, and caroused with these two men for several days. One night she was awakened from sleep at the side of a smoldering coal-pit to find herself in flames. She did not say that the men poured coal oil on her, and set her on fire, but many here believe so. The unfortunate girl, however, was burned from head to foot, and portions of her flesh clung to the cinders and pine tags. The men told no one of her shocking condition, but kept the half-roasted girl in a hole in the ground, without shelter or dressing for her wounds for a day and two nights. Conrad Grantze, overseer of the poor for that township, finally moved her, after many days of unnecessary delay in doing so, but the authorities of the poor house at Smith's landing refused to receive her. She now had been three days without attention, many portions of her flesh being raw and bleeding. Mortification set in, but she was kept another night in the roofless excavation, where a hut called "Nigger Hole" had stood. Finally she was brought here on a pile of straw and died. Her flesh had become putrescent some time before death ensued. Mayor Maxwell says the stench from the poor abused body was awful, yet she would not accuse her companions to him. The revelations as to the habits of the colliers and the brutality with which the girl was treated are most revolting.

Tendered a Clerkship.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Miss Van Low, of Richmond, Va., whose services during the war in behalf of the union cause, and care of soldiers in Libby prison, gave her some prominence, has been tendered a first-class clerkship in the postoffice department by Postmaster General Gresham, on the recommendation of Gen. Grant. Miss Van Low was postmistress of Richmond during President Grant's administration.

The Tehuantepec Railway.

MEXICO, July 10.—Active work has begun on the Tehuantepec railroad. The steel rails are already on the ground, together with six engines and a large number of cars. Senor Sanchez, president of the company, is now in the United States, having been commissioned by the Mexican government to negotiate a small loan for the purpose of completing the Isthmus railroad.

"Airy, Fairy Lillian" in London.

LONDON, July 10.—Lillian Russell has made a great success. She was the guest of the new club, and sang before the prince of Wales and a number of the aristocracy. An injunction has been issued against her appearance at the Gaiety. Manager Henderson claims an exclusive engagement in an agreement.

Cornelius Vanderbilt's Debts All Paid

HARTFORD, Conn., July 10.—The creditors of the late Cornelius J. Vanderbilt have been paid in full, with interest, from the proceeds of the sale of his residence. A surplus of several thousand dollars remained above all debts.

THE AMERICAN TEAM.

What the Riflemen are Doing in the Way of Preparation---British Comment on Their Practice.

LONDON, July 10.—Even if the question of wind-guage is not settled in favor of the American rifle team they will obtain the same amount of practice as the English team will, as they have been presented with complimentary tickets for all competitions with military rifles that are to take place prior to the match at Wimbledon. These tickets entitle the Americans to shoot free unless they compete for prizes, in which case they must enter in the usual manner.

The American team have begun practicing at Wimbledon. Two series of prizes will be instituted, which will be open only to Americans.

The Wimbledon committee decided not to allow the American team to use the wind gauges, considering that complimentary tickets to military rifle competitions will insure the Americans full practice. The Americans entered themselves in all the matches for which they were qualified. The American team practiced at the 1,000-yard range. The wind was rather strong, unsteady, and tricky. Out of a possible 35, C. W. Hinman and F. J. Rabbeth scored 29, J. M. Pollard 24. W. L. Cash 22, Bull 27.

The Daily News, commenting on the practice of the Americans, says the visitors did poorly at first, but when they had once got the range of the bull's-eye they clung to it with much tenacity. On the British side the following score may be noticed: Lowe, at 800 yards, made 34, and Gratwick 31. At 900 yards McKerrel made 32, and Bates, at 1,000 yards, made 31.

The following well-known shots have been requested to register their scores, with a view to the selection of the best possible team to represent Great Britain: Bates, Caldwell, Dods, Gibbs, Godsal, Goodear, Gouldsmith, Gratwicke, Hargreaves, Hart, Humphrey, Kydd, Lowe, Mattory, McPittie, Mullineux, Oliver, Parry, Pearse, Wattieworth, Whitehead, McKerry, Mason, Mellish, Milner, Mitchell, Pullman, Walrond, and Maj. Young. The executive committee of the National Rifle association are arranging so as to allow the American team to use long ranges to themselves at certain times of the year in order to facilitate their practice. The Americans yesterday were somewhat hampered at the long ranges by being obliged to face south instead of as at Creedmoor, and by the humid atmosphere. Correspondents present at the practice, remark that the strangers showed skill in adapting themselves in a few shots to these exceptional conditions, and their shooting at the pool targets, where they used British rifles, is described as very creditable.

SETTING THEIR CAPS

For the President---Ambitious Girls and Intriguing Mammas.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—A local gossiper has this about the president: "Half a dozen girls and their ambitious mothers have believed they had fairly 'bagged' Mr. Arthur, when, in fact, he never thought the second time about them. I know of some very funny things growing out of this sort of fancy. I will tell you one. Last winter there was a very pretty girl here from the principal city of a great western state, and she was presented to the president. Of course he was polite, as he always is, and she immediately thought she 'had' him. Her knowledge of the world was extremely superficial, and her mother had very little sense or knowledge of the usages of the best society. She boasted of her daughter's conquest to her acquaintances, and finally the story was telegraphed to a western paper. A friend of the president saw the dispatch and showed it to him. That evening there was something going on at the White House. Our flamboyant child of the Occident was there, clothed in her radiant loveliness and a perfectly-fitting gown from Pingot's, and she was very pretty. She had intimated to about twenty friends that she meant to parade her captive. So, with an air of assurance born of her coarse vanity, she endeavored to monopolize him. But, to her utter amazement, she could not get into the circle of intimes at all. He barely looked at her, did not ask her to promenade, and when supper came took down a Virginia cousin of his late wife, who was neither young nor pretty, and had never heard of Pingot. The girl went home crying with mortification and rage, and Mr. Arthur was never polite to her again.

"'Well, but is the president a marrying man?' I asked.

"'No, I think not. If he had cared to he might have married an immense fortune before this. There is a lady in New York, the widow of a man five times a millionaire. She is not over thirty, and one of the handsomest women in America. She would be very glad to marry him, I know, and at one time I thought he meant something by his attentions in that quarter. There are other instances, but this is the only one in which I saw any possibilities. No, I don't believe he will ever marry.'"

The Hill Investigation.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Mr. Coleman opened the proceedings in the Hill investigation by the presentation of a number of Bartlett, Robbins & Co.'s contracts.

Several cases were instanced where contracts had been given at figures higher than their lowest bid.

"Here is a curiosity," said Coleman. "It shows how the secretary of the treasury has been coming to the relief of the defense." He then read from the back of a letter from Mr. Hill to Secretary Folger, dated after the filing of the charges in this case, submitting a statement in regard to the heating apparatus for the Charleston (W. Va.) court house, the following indorsement by Secretary Folger: "Upon facts found in the within statement, decide to accept the proposal of Bartlett, Robbins & Co. as the surest and best for the interest of the government."

"Bring him in," exclaimed Totten; "here is a chance for the gentleman to bring another specification."

Mr. Coleman remarked that he supposed the secretary had indorsed the paper in that way to show his approval of what Hill did by doing the same thing himself.

Charles P. Wagnell then took the stand to identify a number of vouchers showing payments to Bartlett, Robbins & Co. and Bartlett, Hayward & Co.

Gresham Decides Against the Lottery Companies.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Lottery companies and gift-enterprise schemes can no longer use the mails. Gresham holds that the original order of Postmaster General Key prohibiting postmasters from distributing letters or circulars of prize companies must be executed. The lottery companies made a desperate fight, engaging the best legal talent and resorting to every expedient that could be devised, but were signally defeated.

Defending Whitelaw Reid.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 10.—General Fred Knefler and Major James R. Ross, of this city, who bore an active and conspicuous part in the battle of Shiloh, refute General Sherman's statement that Whitelaw Reid did not witness the fight, but ran away and wrote his account at a safe distance. Both affirm that Reid was early upon the ground, and that he remained there at great personal risk.

ON THE QUI VIVE.

Watching the Paths of Danger from Yellow Fever---A Vessel in the Mississippi With Cases on Board.

NEW ORLEANS, July 10.—A telegram from the quarantine station announces that the Swedish bark Berna arrived there, nine days out from Vera Cruz, with three cases of yellow fever on board, the mate, steward and captain's wife. As soon as the facts were communicated to Dr. Jones, president of the board of health, he telegraphed the following instructions to Dr. Finney, resident physician at quarantine station:

Isolate, cleanse, disinfect and fumigate thoroughly the bark Berna, her crew and cargo. Destroy infected clothes and bedding. Hold Berna, with officers, crew and cargo, subject to orders of board of health. Allow no communication with the Berna except that conducted by quarantine physician and his assistant. Allow no officer of the quarantine station to leave his post or visit New Orleans.

The quarantine station is under control of the state board of health. It is provided with all requisites for the care of a large number of patients, and communication with the city is not only prohibited but is wholly unnecessary. The station is on the Mississippi river, sixty miles below New Orleans. The Berna was not destined for this port. She left Vera Cruz for Frontera Detabasco, but her course was changed for the north as soon as yellow fever appeared among the crew. The captain entered the Mississippi in search of medical aid and gladly went into quarantine.

A Biloxi special says: No personal communication whatever exists between the quarantine station and the mainland. The sloop formerly plying between Biloxi and the quarantine station is now there on duty with her captain and crew. The mails and supplies will be sent by a schooner, communicating only by a lighter anchored at a safe distance from the quarantine grounds.

ON THE RIO GRANDE.

GALVESTON, Tex., July 10.—Vague rumors were current here that yellow fever had broken out on the lower Rio Grande in Brownsville, but a special just received from that point says: "There is no yellow fever or signs of any in either Brownsville or Matamoras."

The chief of police has three men patrolling the beach down the island to carefully watch the landing of any boat and question closely the occupants in case such an attempt is made. The object is to guard against the possibility of any of the crew of the Salome, lying at sea twelve miles from the city with yellow fever aboard, leaving the ship and attempting to come ashore. The arrangements will continue until the Salome leaves, which will probably occur in a day or two. A Norwegian mariner applied to the authorities for a position as mate on the infected vessel for the voyage to Hampton roads, offering his services for $250 and expenses for the return trip to Galveston. As he never had yellow fever, the offer was declined.

ON THE WATCH AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Surgeon General Hamilton, of the marine hospital service, says that, while yellow fever is a very serious matter, at present he does not think there is cause for alarm, as he believes the marine hospital service, with the epidemic fund, has the means of preventing the introduction of the disease. Vessels with yellow fever on board are now at five Atlantic and gulf ports, but the surgeon general believes that the quarantine arrangements at those ports and at the three quarantine stations are ample to protect the United States. Every vessel that has lately left Vera Cruz for an American port has arrived with a loss of the crew from the fever. Dr. Hamilton has not received any news from the agent he sent to Vera Cruz to make local investigation, but he says the situation there must be extremely serious. He has no apprehensions of the introduction of the fever by land, but if that should occur a rigid quarantine would at once be established with the co-operation of the local authorities, which it would be easy enough under those circumstances to get.

SARATOGA GOSSIP.

A Bid for a National Convention---Mrs. Garfield's Life in Saratoga.

SARATOGA, July 10.—Leading citizens are moving actively to have one or both of the national conventions held here in 1884. A committee has been appointed to see what can be done toward securing pledges for a fund to build a wigwam, and the indications are that a tempting offer will be made in definite shape to the national committees. The proprietors of the hotels are disposed to bid liberally for the patronage that a presidential convention brings with it. Col. Clement, of Congress hall, has offered to give $5,000 to the wigwam fund if the other houses will contribute according to their size, and the proprietors of the Grand Union and United States say they will subscribe their share. The conventions are usually held in June, before the rush of summer travel sets in, and the big hostelries could care for at least 8,000 people without being at all crowded. Besides the hotels there are boarding houses with room for at least 8,000 more. From 15,000 to 20,000 persons could be comfortably cared for here at any time before July 4. After that time the summer visitors begin to come in greater number, but in ordinary seasons there is no great crowd before July 15. The Saratogians have more hope of getting the Democrats to come here than the Republicans. They think the drift of opinion among Democratic politicians is toward holding the convention east, and they are sure they can make a better offer than any other place.

Mrs. James A. Garfield is spending the season here in quiet retirement. Her coming was known to few of the townspeople. She is the guest of Mr. James Mason, of Cleveland, who has taken a cottage here for the season. Mrs. Garfield has fully recovered her health, and is actively interested in the studies and welfare of her children. Her daughter, Miss Mollie, a bright and healthy girl of sixteen, is with her, and her two sons from Williams college will spend part of their vacation here.

The hotel men are happy over the widely extended hot wave. While the thermometer has been in the nineties here as well as elsewhere they know that the next few days will bring hosts of summer sojourners. Up to the Fourth of July none of the big hotels had over 200 guests, and the proprietors of one were said to be losing $700 a day.

Roman Catholic Total Abstinence.

CHICAGO, July 10.—The first semi-annual convention of the Roman Catholic Total Abstinence societies was held in this city, with a large attendance and great interest manifested. Rev. Jas. M. Hogan, president of the Arch-diocesan union, made an eloquent address, which was received with frequent and hearty applause. Resolutions were adopted denouncing the evils which arise from drink, and pledging the societies to united action for the purpose of pushing vigorously the work of Christian temperance. Rev. Father Hogan closed in a short but strong address, and the convention adjourned sine die.

We believe that there is a large class of patent medicines whose ingredients are skillfully and conscientiously selected and compounded, and that they have been very useful in the domestic treatment of disease. We must come to this conclusion in precisely the same way that we come to the conclusion that a man is a skillful physician—by what they accomplish, and by the testimony of those who have used them. The reputa- of a patent medicine is sustained by exactly the same evidence that supports a skillful physician's reputation. * * * Many of those medicines came out of the regular practice, and were prepared and originally prescribed by the best physicians. * * * Very few of them, we believe are humbugs and frauds in the conscientiousness or the intent of their makers. * * * The people, who are necessarily the judges, both of doctors and of medicines, say that these medicines are not all frauds, and if human testimony is good for anything, that fact is established. —Scribner's Monthly.

EX-GOV. ST. JOHN.

His Opinion of the High License and the Political Prospects in Iowa—A David Davis Boom.

CHICAGO, July 10.—Ex-Gov. St. John, of Kansas, being in the city, on his way to lecture in Michigan, a reporter met the prohibition leader at the Palmer house, and was favored with a conversation which was almost exclusively confined to his favorite topic. Mr. St. John said that he was a straight-out Republican, and at the same time a prohibitionist. He be believed that the ultimate success of his party would depend upon the adoption of prohibition as the principal element of its doctrine, and the time was not far distant when all other issues would be comparatively unimportant. "The Republican party," said he, "makes a grand mistake when it evades this question, for, since the abolishment of slavery there has not been an issue that has attracted such universal attention, that has grown with such rapidity as this. As a Republican, I warn my party against the danger of dodging prohibition."

"Will the Prohibitionists conduct a separate national campaign next year?"

"I can not tell. It will depend entirely upon the men and platform which result from the Republican convention. The Prohibitionists hold the balance of power, and it will not do for the Republicans to lose sight of that fact."

"What will be the result in Kansas and Iowa this fall?"

"Both states will be carried by an overwhelming majority by the Republicans just as surely as the sun rises on the morning of election."

"Do you attribute your defeat in Kansas to your advocacy of prohibition?"

"I do not think that my principles had anything to do with it. Was prohibition the cause of Republican defeat in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, and almost every state in the union? Republicans themselves merely wished to chastise their party, and now that machine tactics have received their death-blow, the party is as firmly united as ever. There is not a doubt about the result in 1884."

"What do you think of high license as a step toward prohibition?"

"High license is wrong in principle. If the liquor business is legitimate it ought to have the same treatment that is accorded to any other; but if it is wrong, thus state or city can afford to lend its sanction by a legal enactment. But it may act as a temporary check upon the traffic, and that will result in some good."

"What do you think about Republican presidential possibilities?"

"I don't want to say anything about it, for I would merely tickle one man and make ten thousand mad. Republican aspirants for the presidency are legion. I will make a prediction, however, confidentially. I am very positive that David Davis is becoming a very promising candidate. I have just completed a three months' lecturing tour in the east, and I have heard many good words spoken for him by leading politicians. His record has been so clear, and his head so well balanced at all times, that he would capture the entire conservative vote of both parties. Then he is very popular in the south, and would be very likely to carry several southern states. It goes without saying that he would poll the full vote of his party, and he would be elected by the largest majority that has been awarded a president since the existence of two political parties."

SCHUYLER COLFAX.

His Latest Denial of any Connection with the Credit Mobilier.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 10.—A few days ago The Journal of this city spoke eulogistically of the Hon. Schuyler Colfax, expressing the belief that he was wrongfully driven from public life by designing men. This article meeting the eyes of Mr. Colfax, produced the following letter, which was published in that paper, although not intended for publication:

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 9.—The editorial to which my attention has been drawn, while saying correctly that I will not consent to return to public life, also expresses confidence that the public believe in my integrity, a confidence of which I have had so many gratifying proofs in my independent and enjoyable lecturing life. As to the Credit Mobilier stock, to which you allude, I can only repeat that I never had a share of it nor a dollar of its dividends, having voluntarily abandoned, four years before the public scandal, an incomplete contract to take some of it. Mr. Ames testified that he was holding its stock in trust for Gen. Garfield, W. D. Kelley, and myself, which all three of us denied under oath, and that the three initial checks he produced, two for $329 and one for $1,200, represented dividends paid to us on it, but he presented no receipts from either of us, had no endorsement by either of us on these initial checks, and no witness to their pretended payment. While we all swore we had never seen them, and had never received the amounts named in the checks as dividends, and the cashier swore to the best of his belief that he had paid these very initial checks to Ames himself. John L. Drow, a lawyer of Vermont, when he returned from Europe, after congress had adjourned, averred that he saw the $1,200 Ames drew as a check to "S. C., or bearer," paid by Ames to another man, with whom he had been talking on other claims. As the estate of Mr. Ames has, since been settled, and as none of the stock he said he was holding in trust for us has been found among his papers, it is as evident as an axiomatic truth that there was no such stock, and that however confused his memory might have been by the great excitement of the period, the three initial checks, so different from all the rest, represented abandoned stock on which he had himself collected the dividends. But having no fear of God's judgment upon my integrity and truthfulness in this matter, I only refer to it here thus briefly because of your highly appreciated editorial. Yours truly,

SCHUYLER COLFAX.

The Sporting Record.

A HORSE RACE OFF.

Owing to a cracked heel, Clingstone will not trot with St. Julien at the coming meeting at the Chicago Driving park. Monroe Chief, Coda, Catchfly, Rosalind, and Tacoma are already on the grounds. Leland Stanford's California trotters are on the way from Lincoln, Ill., in a special car.

TWENTY MILES ON THE BICYCLE.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 10.—H. W. Higham, an English bicyclist, defeated John S. Prince, the American champion, in the twenty mile race. Time, 1 hour, 9 minutes, 37¾ seconds.

Locust Plague in Venezuela.

HAVANA, July 10.—Advices from Venezuela state that locusts are making great havoc in many parts of the country. They have reached Puerto, Cabello, Valencia, and inland districts in the same longitude. In one night all the vegetation in the neighborhood of Meron was destroyed. It is feared they will soon reach the fertile valleys of Caracas.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, July 9.—Rodiger & Co's. market letter of this evening says: The leading feature in early dealings to-day was a severe break in pork. August, which closed Saturday at $15.22½, opening this morning at $14.85, and selling finally down to $14.25 this afternoon. The causes of this severe break were heavy receipts of hogs (23,000), and the fear of yellow fever in the south. Wheat, though opening ½c lower than Saturday's closing price, maintained itself quite well until toward the close this noon, when the bears in provisions made a raid on the market covered by the report of a grain failure in Liverpool which carried the market back to the lowest points of last week, August wheat selling at 99⅛c. Good parties, among whom were Lindblom & Co. and Geo. C. Walker & Co., were liberal buyers of wheat all day. Corn was very strong this morning, but yielded later to the same bear attack which carried wheat down. The undertone in corn is very strong, based upon an active shipping demand and a falling off in receipts. Oats suffered in the same way.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

UNION STOCK YARDS, July 9.—Cattle—The attendance of buyers was good, but the large receipts caused a weak feeling, and prices during the morning favored buyers. Sales were as follows: Fancy shipping steers, $6.00@6.10; choice, $5.75@5.90; good to extra good do, $5.45@5.70; medium steers, $5.20@5.35; butchers' steers, $4.30@5.00; good to choice fat cows and heifers, $3.00@4.75; common to fair do, $2.20@3.50; bulls and stags, $2.50@3.50; Texas grass steers, $3.50@4.55; do corn fatted, $4.75@5.40; native feeding steers, $4.00@5.00; stockers, $3.25@4.35. Hogs—The market was weak, slow, and sales show a decline of 15@20c from Saturday's close, although the quality was good. Fair to choice smooth light bacon grades, $5.65@6.20; good to choice mixed weights, $5.45@6.80; good to choice heavy, $5.75@6.10. Sheep—Steady. Sales: Common, $2.25@2.75; fair to medium, $2.90@3.40; good do, $3.40@3.60, and choice $3.70@4.25 per 100 lbs; fancy, $4.25@5.00, chiefly at $3.50@4.25.

New York.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Wheat opened ¼@⅜c higher, afterwards ruled weaker and fell back ¼@⅜c; trade quiet; No. 1 white $1.09; No. 2 red August $1.13¼@1.18¾, September $1.15¾@1.16¼, October $1.15¾@1.18¼, November $1.19¼@1.20. Corn—July ⅜c lower, others ¼@½c higher and quiet; futures 59¾@63⅜c. Oats—Dull and a shade lower; western 42@51c. Provisions—Beef dull and heavy; new extra $13@13.50. Pork dull and heavy; spot new mess $17@17.25. Lard unsettled and lower; steam-rendered $9.35.

The best tonic medicine—one that is not composed mostly of alcohol or whisky—is Brown's Iron Bitters. It is guaranteed to be non-intoxicating and will absolutely kill all desire for whisky and other intoxicants. It has been thoroughly tested and proven itself in every instance a never failing cure for dyspepsia, indigestion, billiousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumptive disease, liver complaints, kidney troubles, etc.

Robinson & Hinrichs, druggists, at Manitowoc, Wis., say: "Our customers who use Brown's Iron Bitters are satisfied with the results."

Mr. Moses Young, druggists, at Reedsburg, Wis., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters give good satisfaction to every one who uses it."

THE IRON TRADE.

An Unpromising Outlook—Prices as Low as In Panic Times.

NEW YORK, July 10.—An Ohio letter says: "I stayed long enough in Cleveland to ascertain that the next two or three months are likely to be a dull times with the iron workmen. The present state of the iron market is discouraging. The only apparent consolation of the rolling mills is that the condition of affairs can not become worse, and if there is any change it will have to be for the better. The Union rolling mill, which employs 300 men, has shut down, and Mr. Fuller, the treasurer, says that the mill will probably not start again before autumn. A number of other rolling mills also expect to shut down for a few weeks. A great deal of fault is found with the speculators in New York, and the present stagnation of the iron market is attributed to them. Prices are nearly as low as they ever were in times of panic; the producers are not anxious to sell at present, and there is a fair demand from consumers. Another reason given for the present condition of things is that so many new mills have sprung into existence in the past three or four years that the activity in the iron industry has caused an over-production, which the slower working of the mills will soon remedy. There is a feeling among many that business will become livelier in the fall, because the crops promise well, and the iron business is, more or less affected by products of the soil."

Randall for Speaker.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The Herald says: When Mr. Randall was last speaker he was not a favorite of the Republicans. Now they have so high an opinion of him that he is really the Republican candidate for the speakership, and they do not conceal their strong desire that he shall be elected. Considering that in the last congress Mr. Randall, with only fourteen or fifteen other Democrats, bolted his party and voted with the Republicans for the present tariff, it seems extremely improbable that he will be elected speaker by the Democrats in the next house unless he boldly recants his error of the last session. The Democratic party would become ridiculous if it should make him its speaker without such recantation. But the Republicans may be able to secure his election by giving him their votes. Why not? The Herald suggested this to them some time ago; we repeat the suggestion now. The Commercial Advertiser asserts that it would be pleased at Mr. Randall's election to the speakership.

Iowa Items.

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 10.—Frank Conboy, an employe in the new capitol, fell from the staging down the hot-air shaft, striking on a steam heating-coil, and causing a fracture of the spinal column, internal injuries and hemorrhage. He was removed to his residence, and died two hours later, remaining conscious to the last.

John Corridon was run over by a Rock Island engine in east Des Moines and is dead. The physicians decided it was useless to amputate his legs, both of which were badly crushed.

An unknown man was found floating in the Des Moines river. He is of sandy complexion, slightly gray, and would weigh about 160 pounds. He had been in the water about three days.

Nat Bassett, a brakeman, shot and seriously wounded his father-in-law at Stuart, Iowa. Family troubles was the cause. Bassett escaped.

The Iowa Republican Platform.

To the Editor.

In an editorial paragraph of a dozen lines, in the Gazette of June 28th, there is a reference to the Iowa republican platform, which is notable for what it does not say. Some points in the platform were stated, but the most important one of all was omitted, whether intentionally or unintentionally is not for me to say—though it will no doubt appear to many that the omission was designed.

Prohibition of the liquor traffic in Iowa is the paramount and leading issue in the campaign which is now fairly opened in that state. This issue is prominently set forth in the resolutions reported to the convention by Senator Wilson, and received a hearty and enthusiastic if not unanimous endorsement. The temperance plank of the platform was evidently regarded as the most important one of all. It was certainly worthy of particular mention in the Gazette. As it is, the readers of this widely circulated journal are left in doubt as to the editor's position on this question. They are left merely to guess what his views may be upon a large subject that is rapidly coming to the front, and which is attracting more attention to-day than any other question in the wide range of political discussion.

The intelligent journalist is supposed to have opinions on all questions that agitate deeply the popular mind and heart. Some topics of political discussion are much more difficult of solution than others, the tariff question for example,—but upon the subject of the liquor traffic, as regards its pernicious and dangerous tendency, thoughtful men of all parties are agreed. The general concession stamps it as a bad traffic, one that is grossly demoralizing, threatening not merely the welfare, but also the very existence of the homes of the nation upon which alone can national perpetuity be predicted. The time for deliberate and prompt action is at hand. The people are looking anxiously to the public journalist for a definite and thoroughly pronounced statement of his convictions on the great moral issues of the day. The public journal is an educator. It should lead in the direction of political truth and righteousness. It should encourage a wide and manly following on the part of the people. Men who wield an instrumentality so potent as the ballot, need line upon line and precept upon precept, that they may be fully prepared to make the elective franchise a power for good in the furtherance of correct principles, and for the highest welfare of the state and nation.

Have the republicans of Iowa done wisely or unwisely by writing the word "prohibition" prominently upon the banner that is to be unfurled in the pending contest in that state?

Will the editor of the Gazette frankly tell us what he thinks about it? If the Iowa republicans have blundered, it is due the party in Wisconsin and elsewhere that the word of warning should be faithfully given. But if, on the other hand, they have done well, let them be commended, that their example may inspire further movements in the same direction. It seems to me to be incumbent on the Gazette, as upon all republican papers, to speak out plainly in regard to the propriety or impropriety of the course which the Iowa republicans propose to pursue. The movement there is clearly indicative of a movement sooner or later all along the line. There is no neutral ground for the journalist to take. He is on one side or the other. The New York Times declares that prohibition is utterly impracticable, and predicts that Iowa will be lost to the republicans by the stand they have taken. Well, we know what the position of the Times is, for it is boldly though not wisely taken. Let other republican journals speak out with equal boldness, and the people will know where they stand on this question, and there will be no more doubt concerning them than there is of the position occupied by the democratic party, which has fully committed itself to the interests of the liquor traffic. But a day of reckoning is not very far off, and the fate of the old pro-slavery party awaits any political organization that allies itself to the dram-shop curse.

I am glad to agree with the Gazette in the prediction that the Iowa republicans will succeed by from forty thousand to sixty thousand majority. They will succeed for they have God and the right up on their side.

SPRING AND SUMMER USE.

We will not attempt to enumerate what we have, nor to describe our stock farther than to say that it consists of the best obtainable, in every department. We keep everything that is usually found in a first-class Hardware and Stove Store, and a few things besides, and have taken especial pains this spring to have everything up to the standard. In articles of different makes, such as

Stoves, Ranges,

Household Implements and labor saving devices.

Axes, Tools,

Farm Machinery,

Etc., Etc.

We have either arranged to give the purchaser his choice of all the varieties, or we have selected after careful comparison, what we consider to be the best. Everything in our stock has been chosen with particular reference to the want of this community and the surrounding country, and we want every purchaser to feel assured that in buying of us he is getting the greatest obtainable value for his money. Speaking of money brings us to the question of prices, and right here we must be pardoned if we do a little bragging. We do not claim to be smarter than the generality of men in a horse trade or sharper in a dog dicker, but when it comes to buying a stock of Hardware stores we know just what we are about. We have been enabled by our experience and certain advantages we possess—not the least of which is buying for SPOT CASH, to lay in our new spring stock of seasonable goods at figures which would astonish our competitors if they knew them, and will allow us to offer our patrons a benefit in the way of ROCK BOTTOM PRICES for TIP TOP GOODS, that we are sure will be appreciated.

—Union Theological Seminary, New York, has property worth $1,730,000, which is an increase of nearly a million dollars as compared with what it possessed ten years ago. Liberal donations of wealthy friends and the rise in certain pieces of real estate have united to bring about this prosperous state of affairs.—N. Y. Sun.

—A report from the records of the courts of France upon the relation between education and crime describes results directly opposed to those obtained in the United States courts. Of 25,000 persons wholly illiterate, five were criminals; of the same number able to read and write, six were transgressors, and of an equal number of persons of superior instruction, fifteen were under the ban. Relapses into crime were found much more numerous among educated people.—N. Y. Herald.

—Nearly two hundred women of New York, wives of some of the best known citizens, have petitioned the Board of Education to make the teaching of sewing to girls between ten and twelve compulsory in the primary schools. A plan of teaching accompanies the petition, and provides that after attaining a certain proficiency the children may bring their own work. This is a step in the right direction. The tendency of our modern education is too often away from home; it trains the brain, but does not make housewives. But as these good women point out sewing is of much more importance to the mother of a poor family than arithmetic, or geography, or history.—N. Y. Tribune.

A Sea Cow's Untimely Fate.

Fulton Market was all agog Saturday over the arrival of a live manatee. He came through in a special from the Amazon River, and seemed robust. But ere he drew his second whiff of Fulton Market air his gentle spirit had taken its lark-like flight to a better land. Not lost in storms nor hidden behind a cloud, he melted away in the light of a clear sky. The air of the market killed him. And no wonder. The stranger who pokes his nose into a stratum of that air always regrets it. He sniffs the delicate flavor of the far-reaching Bermuda, inhales the aroma of the loud-smelling Limburger, mixed with the odor of bilious calf's liver. So it was with the manatee. He passed quietly through the onion stratum, but on reaching the second he paused and panted. He had been brought up all his life on the Amazon, where only vegetation is rank; but to be suddenly transported to a place where everything was rank was altogether too much for his delicate constitution. He shook a sad good-by from his dorsal fin, flopped twice, and with muffled oar silently rowed to the other shore. Great beads of sadness stood on the foreheads of the fishermen. They packed him in the ice and over his remains they sang a dirge and quoted Shakespeare's well-known line, "the fish is oft interred with his bones," or words to that effect.

The manatee or "sea-cow" is nearly extinct. This one is, anyway. There are three varieties of them known, and a great many of them known to be unknown. The animals of the variety that formerly lived in the Polar Sea are all dead.

It is said that they died in trying to masticate the bark they had chipped off the North Pole. However that may be they are unanimously dead. Animals of still another variety have been caught in the Eastern Archipelago and called the dugong. They were caught in a fog and not in a net as has been supposed. All but one slipped through the fog and escaped. The one turned informer and was extradited.

They are sometimes called "sea-cows" or "cow-fish," by ancient mariners who tell strange stories about the ocean dairies supplied with milk by them. They look like seals, but have no hair. Their skin resembles polished India-rubber. The specimen on exhibition in Fulton Market weighed 101 pounds and was four feet six inches in length. It is rumored that a set of false teeth was found in his stomach. His remains were sent to the Smithsonian Institute at Washington, where he will be skinned, his skeleton extracted and set up for exhibition. Whatever is left of him after this work has been done will be returned to Fulton Market and possibly sold for shad roe or tripe.—N. Y. Tribune.

—A well-meaning person gives hints telling "How to live on seventy-five cents a week." There is such a thing as being too close, and most editors will just keep on squandering eighty cents a week, even if they see ruin staring them in the face.—Texas Siftings.

—The Toronto Globe has found the bane of Manitoba. It is the too eager pursuit of wealth. We had an idea that it was forty-eight degrees below zero in winter and good sleighing all the spring, but the Globe probably knows best.—Detroit Free Press.

—"Miss Fitzjoy—aw—are you not fond of etchings,—aw—you know they are deuced clever—some of them are?" "Ah, yes, indeed, Mr. Featherweight. And do you know there is something about you that reminds me very much of an etching?" "Why, really—aw—how charming——" "Yes. There is about you such a foggy suggestion of something that isn't there, you know." —Hartford Post.

—A few years ago two boys of the name of John Smith were sent to the same school where the pupils had learned that "a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." Hence they were more prodigal than particular in conferring new names upon each other, but the twin name of "John Smith" for a time staggered them. At last, however, they discovered that one of the young gentlemen was the son of an auctioneer and the other the son of a waiter, so the former was at once dubbed Going Smith and the latter Coming Smith, names by which they are still distinguished.—Chicago Tribune.

A Woman's Experience.

MRS. WILLIAM DOWNES, of Uxbridge, Mass., writes on March 15, 1883, as follows:

"During the past three years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of diseases which baffled the skill of the most experienced doctors, as I could not obtain permanent relief by their treatment and prescriptions; and I have also tried many so-called cures in the medicine line, but could get no relief. The pains, aches, and weakness increased so rapidly and constantly that I was so reduced in strength as to be unable to leave the bed, and the doctors informed me that there was no hope of a recovery. In this exhausted and discouraged condition a dear friend persuaded me to use Hunt's Remedy, and after taking it only three days I commenced to get better, and to my great joy and delight I have continued to improve constantly by its use, until now, after having taken the remedy only a few weeks, I am able to be about my house again, and am now doing my house work. My lame back is cured, the severe pains have disappeared, and I am now in better health than for many years, and beg this privilege of gladly recommending Hunt's Remedy to all who are afflicted with any disease of the kidneys or liver; and I also highly recommend it for the attacks of sick headache. My husband also has experienced a very great benefit to his health by the use of this most valuable medicine, Hunt's Remedy."

"Our Flag is Still There."

MR. S. B. LONGFELLOW, Augusta, Me., east side river, writes us under date of April 15, 1883:

"To whom it may concern: This may certify that two years ago I was very badly afflicted with kidney and urinary difficulties, which extended through the system and laid me up for weeks, so that I could do no work. I had the most skilful physician in town, who gave me no assistance. Hearing of Hunt's Remedy, I got a bottle, and half of it cured me entirely, so that I have been well ever since. The other half I gave to a neighbor who was afflicted much as I was, and it restored him to health. I can truly say Hunt's Remedy has been of great and inexpressive worth to me."

OF THE

Medical and Surgical

INSTITUTE

Late Lecturer and Professor in one of the leading medical colleges in the United States, editor of the New York Medical and Surgical Journal, consulting physician and operative surgeon in the New York Hospital for Chronic Diseases. Physician in Chief of the Medical and Surgical Institute of Cedar Rapids.

ON ACCOUNT OF HIS

Immense Practice

IN

Janesville, Wis.,

WILL MAKE HIS NEXT VISIT AT THE

MYERS HOUSE,

Wednesday, August 29th.

And Remain Two Days

When he can be consulted on

Deformities, Spinal and Chronic Diseases.

Dr. Fishblatt

Has discovered the greatest cure in the world for weakness of the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight or giddiness, diseases of the throat, nose or skin, affections of the liver, lungs stomach, or bowels,—those terrible disorders arising from solitary practice more fatal to their victims than the songs of the sirens to the Mariners of Ulysses, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible.

YOUNG MEN.

Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, who might, if otherwise, entrance listening senates with the thunder of their eloquence, or wake to ecstacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness (loss of procreation power, impotency,) nervous debility or any other disqualifications speedily relieved. He who places himself under the care of Dr. Fishblatt may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

Organic WEAKNESS.

Immediately cured and full vigor restored. This affliction—which renders life a burden and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victim of improper indulgence. Young persons are apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands this subject will deny that procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both mind and body arise. The system becomes deranged, the physical and mental functions weakened, loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional debility, wasting of the frame, cough, consumption and death.

A Cure Warranted.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders who keep them trifling month after month, taking poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately.

Dr. Fishblatt

Graduated at one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at certain sounds, with frequent blushing attended somewhat with derangement of the mind, were cured immediately.

Particular Notice.

Dr. F. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruins both mind and body, unfitting them for business, study, society, marriage. These are some of the sad, melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, namely: Weakness in the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight, loss of musical power, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability, derangement of the digestive functions, debility consumption, etc.

Chronic Diseases.

A Special Study for Years.

:o:

Dr. F. B. BREWER,

Has made Chronic Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, Nerves and Blood.

A special treatment for years. He is not a boastful, ignorant pretender, but an educated physician, seeking to do good, by devoting his talent and energies to the treatment of a class of maladies that have been with him a long and patient study. To be able to treat successfully chronic diseases it requires that a physician should be a sound, thorough scholar in the art of science and medicine generally. He should give his entire time to their study, be thorough in his investigations and have a long and varied experience. Dr. Brewer claims to work no wonders or to do any more than any well educated physician can do, who devotes his whole time to the study and treatment of chronic diseases exclusively, and has had his many years of experience. For years Dr. Brewer has visited the the places he now visits, and has obtained his reputation by being honest in his dealings, candid in opinions and reasonable in his charges. Those who are afflicted are invited to call, investigate and decide for themselves. It will cost nothing to do so. Address all letters to

His Soul and His Silver.

"Your asking me how I came to use it, reminds me of the story of the Scotchman who, on his deathbed, after a life of meanness, wanted to make things all right with the Lord by leaving some money to kirk."

"Will the Almighty pass me into heaven if I give 10,000 pounds to the kirk, d'ye think, said he?"

"'I can't promise ye thot, mon,' answered the minister, 'but I advise ye to try the experiment.'"

"That's what I did with PARKER'S TONIC; I tried the experiment. It more than met my expectations, and I am very glad to testify to its excellence. It goes at once to the root of all digestive and nervous derangements so common among men of my profession. For women and chronic invalids the Tonic is a perfect invigorant and is designed to supplant all other remedies for this purpose. A single dose produces the gentle perspiration and sense of life, which eradicates disease. It seems to rouse every organ into activity. I admire it, too, for its power to antagonize the hold of the liquor habit over inebriates."

This preparation which has been known as PARKER'S GINGER TONIC, will hereafter be called PARKER'S TONIC. As unprincipled dealers are constantly deceiving their customers with inferior articles under the name of ginger, and as ginger is really an unimportant flavoring ingredient, we drop the misleading word.

There will be no change, however, in the preparation itself, and all bottles in the hands of dealers wrapped under the name of PARKER'S GINGER TONIC contain the genuine medicine if the fac-simile signature of HISCOX & CO. is at the bottom of the outside wrapper.

Brieflets.

—Captain Vankirk is doing business in Chicago to-day.

—There was nothing doing in the municipal court up to three o'clock to-day.

—Mr. S. Hellburn, of Louisville, Ky., is in the city for a few days visit with his niece, Mrs. Fred. Sonneborn.

—The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grove was made happy last evening by the arrival of an 8½ pound girl baby.

—Dr. G. W. Chittenden, who has been absent on a pleasure trip in Dakota for the past three weeks, returned home to-day.

—Mrs. W. T. King and son, of Webster City, Iowa, are in the city, visiting parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Watson, of the second ward.

—Mr. Archie Reed writes under date of Paris, June 25th, that he is taking in the sights of the French capital, and is enjoying good health.

—The Catholic cornet band will give an open air concert on the corn exchange square to-morrow evening, instead of the Bower City, as stated by us last evening.

—Mr. Hyatt S. Haselton, who was called here to attend the funeral of his father, the late J. M. Haselton, returned to the Cream City yesterday afternoon.

—Hon. Frank Leland, late United States consul at Hamilton, Ontario, and wife, are in the city, and will remain for some time. They are stopping with Mrs. H. G. Reichwald, Mrs. Leland's sister.

—Mr. P. Connors has the frame of another new house up, making the third which he has built on North First street, —two this season. They are all in a first class location, commanding a good view of the city, and will no doubt prove a profitable investment.

—The Gazette, a day or two ago, stated that Mrs. L. Ward, of Milwaukee, formerly Mrs. Irwin, of this city, was dangerously ill and could not long survive. The notice should have read Mr. L. Ward, of Milwaukee, as such is the fact.

—The Rockford Rifles have accepted an invitation from Captain C. F. Glass, of the Janesville Guards, to be present at the encampment of the first regiment in this city next August, and will probably be here on Saturday and Sunday, August 11th and 12th.

—The funeral of the little infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Moore Havens, took place at the home of the parents, corner of Pleasant and Franklin streets, this afternoon at two o'clock. The remains of the little one were taken to the cemetery in the town of Janesville for interment.

—The arguments on the motion for a new trial in the case of the Burgess steel and iron works against the Harris manufacturing company, were concluded in the circuit court this forenoon, and Judge Wentworth took the same under advisement and returned to Racine on the afternoon train.

—A couple of meek looking specimens of humanity were paraded through our streets this forenoon, handcuffed together, while awaiting the train to convey them to Darlington, LaFayette county. They were a couple of prisoners arrested in Dakota, and brought back on a requisition, charged with committing rape in LaFayette county.

—Dr. E. E. Loomis and wife started this morning for a little pleasure trip, and will be absent from the city a week or ten days. They will visit Waukesha, Milwaukee, Chicago, and Farm Ridge, and their friends will wish them a pleasant time. Dr. Hugh Menzies will attend to Dr. Loomis' office during his absence.

—Marshal Hogan returned home from Chicago on the one o'clock train, leaving Sheriff Harper in that city to keep a look-out for the horse thieves. Marshal Hogan says that the pursuing party lost all traces of the team and thieves at Garden Prairie on Sunday. Garden Prairie is a small place six miles southeast of Belvidere. Here they went straight east for Chicago, and heard nothing more of the team or thieves.

—Venor, the Canadian weather prophet, has the following predictions for July:—"On the whole, July will be a very warm month, with more than an average number of violent thunder showers. On the 18th occurs the conjunction of Mars and Saturn at 1:19 in the afternoon, and on the same day Jupiter is in conjunction with Mercury. A violent storm may be expected on that and the following day, with intense electrical manifestations along the coast of the north Atlantic ocean."

—Messrs. John Thoroughgood & Co. have just put into their box factory, on North Main street, a force pump, for the purpose of supplying the establishment with fresh water, and for fire purposes. The pump has been placed in the basement of the building, where it draws water from a drive well; pipes have been put into the building, arranged for the attachment of hose, so that a good stream of water can instantly be brought into service in any part of the building desired, thus making it a protection against loss by fire.

—The probabilities are that Janesville will be without a city treasurer until next week. It is now stated that Mayor St. John will not issue a call for a special meeting of the council unless six aldermen sign a written request, and we understand that the signatures of that number cannot be obtained to such a paper as some of the aldermen will be absent from the city during the remainder of the week, and will not return in time to hold a meeting. Possibly a meeting will be arranged for the early part of next week, as there is some important business to be settled aside from the election of a city treasurer.

—Messrs. Dimock & Hayner, the old and well-known insurance firm, have something to say to-day, that will be of interest to all persons using insurance. They are now nicely settled in their new and commodious rooms on East Milwaukee street, next to the Rock County bank, and we are glad to note that their enterprise is already being rewarded by an increase of business. Their line of companies is large and reliable, and the company have long since established an enviable reputation in insurance circles, and have justly won the confidence of their patrons. We bespeak for them continued prosperity in their new quarters.

The City Assessment.

The board of review of the city have completed their labors, and the city clerk now has the assessment rolls in his possession ready to be approved by the common council whenever that body sees fit to hold a meeting. By an examination of the assessment rolls we find that the total assessment of property, real and personal, gives a grand total of $3,918,515, divided among the five wards as follows:

First ward—personal	$390,435
—real	757,230
		$1,147,695
Second ward—personal	$276,980
—real	441,805
		$718,785
Third ward—personal	$331,210
—real	580,680
		$911,890
Fourth ward—personal	$229,170
—real	540,200
		$769,370
Fifth ward—personal	$95,425
—real	274,310
		$370,735
Total		$3,918,515
The amount in 1882 was		$3,900,465
An increase for 1883 of		$18,050

The common council levied a tax last year for general city and ward purposes of $14,227.00. It is said by those who are qualified to judge of the expenditures of the city that this amount will be reduced about $1,585.85. In 1882 the sum of $9,700 was raised for the bonded debt fund, while only $7,570 will be required this year for that purpose, making $2,130 less in the fund. In 1882 the sum of $1,027.00 was levied for the judgment fund, and this year but $571.15 will be required, which is $455.85 less than last year. In 1882 the sum of $1,500 was raised for the bridge fund, which is deemed ample to meet the requirments for the coming year, and as the fire department is in good shape, it is thought a reduction of $500 will be made in this fund, which shows a total estimated reduction of $4,535.85 from the tax levy of 1882. The ward funds will probably be fixed the same as last year, in which event the tax levy for 1883 will foot up $39,611.15. Last year the tax was eleven and a half mills on the dollar, while it will this year, if the above figures are correct, (as they are supposed to be) a small fraction over one per cent. Our tax payers will hardly find cause to grumble at this tax, when they are informed that no city in the state can show as low a per cent. tax on the same valuation of property.

Strength for Mind and Body.

There is more strength restoring power in a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic than in a bushel of malt or a gallon of milk. This explains why invalids find it such a wonderful invigorant for mind and body.

From the Hot Springs.

The Rockford Gazette of July 7th, contains an account of the dangerous illness of Mr. Will Rogers, who went to the Hot Springs, in Arkansas, a few weeks ago in company with Mr. F. A. Leland, son of Mr. J. A. Leland, of this city, for treatment, and later advices give an account of his death, which occurred on the evening of July 5th. The Gazette, in alluding to the telegram of Mr. Rogers, says:

Deceased was born in Beloit, and for the past few years has been shipping clerk in Mr. Price's office. He was well known here as a young man of excellent qualities. He was engaged to be united in marriage to Miss Jessie, daughter of Anthony Haines Esq., and his sudden demise has caused a feeling of sadness among his many friends.

The telegram was as follows:

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., July 6.
H. W. Price:—Will Rogers died at 9:15 last night. Have telegraphed Mrs. Rogers on the train, and have had body embalmed, awaiting her arrival. Have you any instructions?
F. A. LELAND.

The Rockford Gazette, of last evening, has the following additional particulars:

"The following telegram has just been received:

HOT SPRINGS, July 9.
H. W. Price:—Mrs. Rogers left with the body last evening.
F. A. LELAND.

The body will arrive here to-morrow, and the funeral will be held in the Emmanual church to-morrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. A. W. Snyder officiating."

How About the Doses.

Many people before purchasing a medecine naturally inquire the size of the dose and the strength of it. In using Burdock Blood Bitters a teaspoonful for the little ones and two teaspoonfuls for grown folks are all that is necessary at one time. This magnificent medicine is not only economical but very pleasant to taste.
Sold by Palmer & Stevens and Sherer & Co.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 68 degrees above zero. Clear with a southwest wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 82 degrees above. Cloudy, with a west wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 64 and 71 degrees above zero.

School Report.

The spring term of school in District No. 5, town of Johnstown, closed July 3, 1883.

Names of scholars perfect in attendance: Willie Hadden, Maggie Beaton, Wallace McGregor, Annie Weller, Alice McGregor, Hugh Jamieson.

Perfect in deportment; Mary McGregor, Belle Jamieson, Ellen McGregor, Annie Hadden, Alice McGregor, James Beaton.

Whose standing was over 90 at last examination: Wallace McGregor, Annie Weller.

Between 85 and 90: Willie Hadden, Aurie Hadden, Hugh Jamieson.
MINNIE GIFFORD, Teacher.

Our readers will find all the medicines advertised in this paper at Prentice & Evenson's drug store, opposite the postoffice. They keep all the principal patent medicines in the market, and undoubtedly have the largest stock in the city.

About the Election of a City Treasurer.

The city council seems to be afraid to meet the question which is before them, that of electing a city treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Haselton. One night the republicans staid away to prevent a quorum, and last night the democrats absented themselves for the same purpose. There may have been some excuse in the first act—looking at it from a political point of view—because the absence of one republican member gave the democrats the balance of power, at least there would have been five democrats to four republicans. But last night there was one democrat absent from the city, and if all the members at home met in the council there would have been four of each party, not a sufficient number to elect a treasurer if the party lines were strictly drawn, but a number sufficient to have secured a quorum.

The people will hardly commend this procedure. The council should have courage enough to meet the issue and meet it at once, and if possible to settle the matter. Should all the members of the city council meet, the parties would be evenly divided—five republicans and five democrats—and would be in no better shape to elect a treasurer than they were last night when they stood 4 to 4. The only way to deal with the question is to deal with it fairly and squarely. Let the members come together, talk over the question thoughtfully and reasonably, and by some way, which would be honorable to both parties, elect a city treasurer. This is a plain, common sense method, and nothing can be gained by either party by delaying to meet the issue.

It Seems to Satisfy

A family want, and I wonder how we ever got along without Parker's Ginger Tonic. It cured me of nervous prostration, and I have used it since for all sorts of complaints in our family. Mrs. Jones, Albany.

The Funeral of Mr. Capelle.

There was a large attendance at the funeral service of the late Thomas Capelle, which took place at the family residence in the First ward at two o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. Olin A. Curtis officiated at the service, and the Court Street church quartet rendered the music. The pall-bearers were all conductors in the service of the Chicago & Northwestern railway, and were—O. H. Church, L. F. Thorne, John Burns, A. H. Stickney, John Burke and M. Stathard. The remains were enclosed in a handsomely mounted casket, bearing many tender expressions of sympathy in the form of beautiful flowers. The burial took place at Oak Hill cemetery, and was attended by a very large number of friends who deeply sympathize with the family in their great bereavement.

The True Test

If a man is hungry within an hour more or less after a meal he is a dyspeptic, it shows his stomach is not able to dispose of what he has eaten, but to eat again, and thus impose more work, is ab surdity. Take Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic which cures dyspepsia, and all stomach, liver, kindey and bladder troubles. It is a perfect tonic, appetizer blood purifier, a sure cure for ague and malaria diseases. Price 50 cents, of Stearns & Baker.

The Common Council.

Last evening was the regular meeting night for the common council, and at a few minutes after eight o'clock, Mayor St. John took the chair and ordered the city clerk to call the roll.

Present—Aldermen Fifield, Kenyon, Palmer and Potter—4.

Thereupon the mayor declared the council adjourned for want of a quorum.

Freshness and purity are communicated to the complexion by GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP.

"HILL'S HAIR DYE," black or brown fifty cents.

Nearer to Nature.

Nature has made her laws with us, which we must obey or suffer the penalty. This penalty is often lung or throat trouble, which leads on to consumption. Every man believes consumption incurable. People have been educated to this belief, which is proven incorrect by Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure which is nature's great helpmate, and it cures consumption and all throat and lung diseases speedily and permanently. Trial bottles free, of Stearns & Baker.

Cleanliness and purity make Parker's Hair Balsam the favorite for restoring the youthful color to gray hair.

The Fourth of July Committee.

The general committee of the Fourth of July celebration held a meeting in the editorial room of the Daily Gazette office last evening, for the purpose of examining and auditing the bills incurred. Mr. Charles Atwood was elected treasurer of the committee.

There are numerous subscriptions yet unpaid, but the committee are in hopes of securing sufficient funds to pay all indebtedness. The treasurer will make a full and detailed report for publication as soon as the bills and subscriptions are settled.

Milton.

—J. A. Spalding has bought of W. G. Hamilton the lot and building occupied by W. H. Cory, on the corner of Janesville and Madison streets. It is Mr. Spalding's intention to erect on the lots next season a brick block 50 by 70 feet, with two stores and a banking office on the first floor and a hall on the second floor, removing the store now on the premises to the north part of the lot which he recently purchased of D. C. Burdick. He intends to build a part of the block this fall, to accommodate his bank, and have the bank ready for business by October 1st.

—At the annual school meeting of district No. 5, held Monday evening, W. P. Clarke was elected as director in place of Wm. McEwen, whose term of office had expired.

—If you want a good trunk, call on W. W. Clarke.

—Will A. Harvey, late material agent for the Atlantic and Pacific railway company in Arizona, arrived in town last week on a visit to Wisconsin relatives and friends. Friend Harvey has seen a good many hundred miles of the Atlantic and Pacific built since he left Milton and now holds a responsible position with the company, having gone into their service as a chain man in a surveyor's party. He says the scenery along the new road is the grandest in the west. His many friends here are glad to meet him once more and to congratulate him on his success in the far southwest.

—M. T. Cole and wife, of Claremont Minn, are at home to spend their summer vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leo. Hyman, of Chicago, spent the "Fourth" here with Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Moon.

—Mrs. John M. Giler and family, of Milwaukee, are enjoying the pleasure of a visit with Milton friends.

—Milton musical talent was in demand on the Fourth. Dr. Post directed the Utica band at Oregon, O. B. Clarke swung the baton over the heads of the Albion Prairie band, at Cambridge, C. M. Post lipped the solo alto for the Bower City band, at Janesville, and R. H. Saunders tickled a clarionet reed with Anderson's orchestra of the same place.

—Frank Cole and family, of New Hampton, Iowa, are in town visiting their parents. It is Frank's first visit here since he left for the west eight years ago.

—Mrs. W. E. Burdick, of Oshkosh, is spending a few weeks here visiting relatives and friends.

—Prof. J. D. Bond and wife have gone to Sheboygan to spend two weeks as the guest of L. D. Harvey and wife.

—P. Home, of the Milwaukee firm of Home Bro.'s, is spending this week in town. His many Milton friends are glad to see him.

Resolutions.

At a regular meeting of Milton lodge, No. 65, I. O. O. F., July 5th, 1883, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, In view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our friend and brother, John McRae, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to him, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed brother to say that in regretting his removal from our midst, we mourn for one who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, That we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased, on the dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them; and we commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and whose chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the lodge, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother and to each of the newspapers, the Weekly Telephone and the Janesville Gazette.

ARCHIE REID.

Ladies' underwear at Mattie McCullagh & Co.'s.

—Dr. Sweuk, our enterprising dentist over Roberts' dry good store and Stearns & Baker's drugstore, West Milwaukee street, leased his office rooms a few days since, for a period of ten years. The doctor is doing a splendid business here, and is giving satisfaction to all, and now will make Janesville his future home. He has just had his office refurnished in fine style; the floors are all laid in ask and walnut, and is otherwise arranged to make his rooms a pleasant place to call.

Rooms to rent, 85 North Main street.

For dress goods at lowest prices go to McKey & Bro.

For hosiery in the finest grades, go to McKey & Bro.

That black gros grain silk 23 inches wide for $1.50 at Archie Reids makes the ladies happy, it is the best value in the city.

For parasols fancy and plain, go to McKey & Bro.

If you wish to see something beautiful, go to Bostwick & Sons and examine the muslin embroideries just received by them.

Sample corsets, fans, parasols, and fancy dry goods at less than wholesale prices, only at Archie Reid's.
